9:15 – 10:15 a.m. Good Day or Bad Day? It All Starts with the Horse

Horses are a vital part of cattle handling in the West. The horse that you saddle in the morning often determines how your day will go. Curt, Ron, and Dean will share their thoughts getting your horse ready to be a consistent part of your cattle handling program.

Adding Value to Your Operation- The Ranch Horse Market

Ranch horse sales are breaking records across the country with broke, seasoned, and gentle horses bringing top dollar. Many cattle operations are creating horse programs that add another revenue source to the ranch’s bottom-line. Our clinicians will discuss the trends that they are seeing and share ideas on how cattle operations might benefit from adding the sale of ranch horses to their list of enterprises.

10:15 – 11:15 a.m.

Cattle Handling: Honoring Traditions in a Modern World

Methods and philosophies of skillful cattle handling have been passed down through generations of ranching families. Those traditions are not to be forgotten, but are meant to be appreciated and built upon. Ron, Curt, and Dean will conduct live cattle handling demonstrations and discuss how those traditions in cattle handling are being redefined as a positive for the beef industry.

11:15 – 12:15 p.m.

A Dog's Place in Cattle Handling

When it comes to using dogs on the ranch, people have a variety of opinions on how they should be used. Curt Pate will present a working dog demonstration with his thoughts on handling cattle with dogs.

12:30 – 2:00 p.m.

Barbecue Lunch with Merck

2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Beef Quality Assurance (BQA) Review and Certification Test

Adjourn upon completion of the test
